Workshop Chair: Dr. Joseph Barber teaches psychologists and physicians at the University of Washington Medical School. He is an award-winning author on the topic of pain management, and a former President of the Society for Clinical and Experimental Hypnosis.

Workshop Topics: (Abstract of Josephs description): THE PRACTITIONER'S SANCTUARY.

No Hunting, No Trapping Allowed. An Interactive, Experiential Workshop.

Clinicians are especially vulnerable to feeling trapped by both the satisfaction and the emotional burden of their work. We spend emotionally intense, often intellectually challenging time with people who sometimes affect us personally in ways that inadvertently interfere with our clinical judgment and professional satisfaction.

This workshop is designed to promote greater awareness of how our personal qualities may interact with those of our patients and how this may, in turn, affect the effectiveness of our clinical work. This workshop is intended to lighten the burden of the practitioner, raising both clinical effectiveness and the enjoyment of our work. Participants are involved in small group exercises, group discussion and personal exploration in a benevolent, respectful atmosphere: The Sanctuary has been offered many times over the past twenty-five years to groups around the world and participants reported a greater sense of energy and enthusiasm for clinical work
